

Building a robust pipeline of gender-responsive climate science leaders in Africa

African agriculture may be the most impacted sector by climate change:

50% reductions in yield by 2020

Only 13%
of population needs
covered by 2050

Ambition

Speeding the emergence of capable African climate science leaders

Contributing to efficient local adaptation strategy to climate change