LUMIÈRE2019
GRAND LYON FILM FESTIVAL
12/20 OCTOBRE

10th anniversary!

2019. A decade ago, the Lumière festival presented the first Lumière Award to Clint Eastwood in Lyon, the birthplace of the Lumière Cinematograph. As the festival continues to flourish (185,000 moviegoers attended last year), we look forward to commemorating the last ten years. Today, passion for classic cinema is stronger than ever and Lyon never ceases to celebrate the memory of films, movie theaters and audiences.

Lumière 2019 will be rich in events. Guests of honor will descend on Lyon from all over the world; Frances McDormand, Daniel Auteuil, Bong Joon-ho, Donald Sutherland, Marco Bellocchio, Marina Vlady and Gael Garcia Bernal will evoke their cinema and their love of films. Retrospectives, tributes, film-concerts, exhibitions, master classes, cinema all-nighters, screenings for families and children, a DVD market, a cinema bookstore, the Cinema Fair... a myriad of opportunities to enjoy and cherish heritage works together.

For this 10th anniversary, the Lumière festival has created Lumière Classics, a section that presents the finest restored films of the year, put forward by archives, producers, rights holders, distributors, studios and film libraries. The new label focuses on supporting selected French and international films.

Also new, the International Classic Film Market Village will hold a DVD Publishers' Fair, exceptionally open to the public, which includes a conference discussion and debate on the future of DVDs and Blu-rays. Professionals from around the world in the heritage film industry will meet for the annual four-day Film Market.

The highlight of this edition, the much-anticipated main event, is the visit of Francis Ford Coppola, laureate of the Lumière Award 2019. Established in 2009, the Lumière Award is distinguished by its international impact and prestigious list of recipients, giving it the ambition to become (despite its recent creation), the "Nobel Prize" of cinema. In Coppola's company, we will take a journey through the filmography of one of the greatest living legends in the history of cinema. Coppola is a filmmaker with an extraordinary destiny, who has never ceased to explore his art.

For the festival's ten years and the many more to come, we thank the artists, film theaters and entertainment venues, the public authorities and private partners who support us, the volunteers, ever-present at our side, and the audiences for their ardent enthusiasm and boundless energy.

We welcome all of you!

THE PROGRAM

RETROSPECTIVES

Francis Ford Coppola: Lumière Award 2019

A filmmaker of rare genius, fulfilling an extraordinary destiny, auteur of some of the greatest successes and most celebrated films of the 20th century, Francis Ford Coppola has never ceased to seek new forms of cinema, while preserving the highest forms of classicism, in an absolute search for the freedom of creation. Screening a selection of his films, holding a master class, the Lumière Award ceremony and The Godfather all-nighter are some of the ways the festival will honor this heir to the empires of Hollywood, always committed to reaching new heights by constantly exploring the art of cinema. Special thanks to American Zoetrope and Pathé.

André Cayatte, a filmmaker with "social courage"

André Cayatte, a lawyer-turned-director with a fondness for literature and poetry, was the genuine nonconformist craftsman of passionate films, exploring themes of revenge while fighting against censorship and the polite society of the post-war period. Contrary to claims by his critics, he tackled injustice and various social problems with unflinching "social courage", as described by André Bazin. The winner of numerous awards, he also garnered popular success with the working-class. His works starred Annie Girardot, Danielle Darrieux, Serge Reggiani, Noël Roquevert, Marina Vlady, Marcel Mouloudji, Anouk Aimée, Bernard Blier or Jacques Brel... Special thanks to Gaumont.

Forbidden Hollywood: Warner Treasures

As early as 1934, the dogmatic "Hays Code" censored American movies containing sexuality, violence, or moral "indecentcy." However, between the advent of talkies and the Hays Code, Hollywood enjoyed several years of crazy freedom. The films broach sex, miscegenation, homosexuality; they feature gangsters and femme fatales, embodied by Mae West, Joan Crawford and Barbara Stanwyck... Directors like William A. Wellman, Roy Del Ruth and Clarence Brown offered a vision of the subversive, libertarian and social world, a spearhead of unprecedented feminism. These films will be shown on the big screen for the first time. A retrospective made possible by Warner France and USA.

Permanent History of Women Filmmakers: Lina Wertmüller

A rebellious and maverick filmmaker who trained alongside Federico Fellini on 8 1/2, Lina Wertmüller shook up the macho Italy of the 1960s. Between satires of fascism, the war of the sexes or class struggles, her provocative style was an inherent mix of politics, feminism and comedy. Directing her go-to actor, Giancarlo Giannini, she received a host of international awards in the 1970s and much critical acclaim. In 1977, she made history with Seven Beauties, becoming the first woman nominated for an Academy Award.

Big black & white classics

New: to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Lumière festival, here is a selection of masterpieces that have left their mark on the history of cinema. For neophytes, as well as movie buffs, who like to immerse themselves in some of the best films of the 20th century, these great classics are not to be missed. They can also be rediscovered for the sheer delight of seeing them on the big screen. The mythical Citizen Kane (Orson Welles, 1941) will lead the dance, along with La Règle du jeu (Jean Renoir, 1939), M (Fritz Lang, 1931), Tokyo Story (Yasujiro Ozu, 1953) and many others.

GUESTS OF HONOR

All our guests will discuss their careers and interact with the public during their master class at the Comédie Odéon.

A major filmmaker riding the sensational wave of the 2000s (with Park Chan-wook, a Lumière guest in 2017), the director of Memories of Murder, already of cult status, and Parasite, Palme d'Or 2019, Bong Joon-ho will be fêted at Lumière 2019. He will also share his selection of Korean movies with us in a carte blanche. Events: Okja, in its first theatrical showing, Barking Dog, his first film ever released in Europe, and a Bong Joon-ho all-nighter at the Institut Lumière.

Donald Sutherland

From Robert Altman's M.A.S.H. to The Hunger Games to Bernardo Bertolucci's 1900, Canadian actor Donald Sutherland has built an impressive career over six decades. Winner of two Golden Globes and an Honorary Oscar, hailed for his charismatic performances in films and countless series, he will tell us about his abundant and fascinating cinema life.

Marco Bellocchio

An important director of Italian films, Marco Bellocchio is a tireless prober of the Italian soul and its political and social elements, with films such as Good Morning, Night, Devil in the Flesh or Vincere... This eternal insurgent will premiere The Traitor, selected for competition this year at the Cannes Film Festival.

Meet this actress, writer and singer of Russian origin with a thousand facets to her prolific international career.

At Lumière, he will premiere his new film as a director: Chicuarotes.

SECTIONS

NEW

Lumière Classics

For its 10th anniversary, the Lumière festival has created Lumière Classics.

Incorporating what was previously the New Restorations section, it is composed of films put forward by producers, rights holders, distributors and international studios. Lumière Classics has become the new label of the festival to support selected films.

This section consists of three categories:

- French films (from Toni by Jean Renoir to Swords of Blood by Philippe de Broca or A Bag of Marbles by Jacques Doillon)
- International films (such as Albert Lewin's Pandora and the Flying Dutchman, Vittorio De Sica's Miracle in Milan or Mikhaïl Kalatozov's The Cranes Are Flying)
- Treasures from archives around the world (Poland, Russia, Iran, Sweden, Slovakia...) revealing rare films to discover.

A jury will assess the restoration work and evaluate its potential return to theaters to celebrate those who help classic cinema flourish.

Epic screenings

This series is the traditional rendezvous for fans of big screen movies, with legendary works this year, such as Franklin J. Schaffner's Papillon, David Lean's The Bridge on the River Kwai, John Sturges' The Great Escape (absent from screens since its release in 1963) or Alan Parker's Mississippi Burning.

Sublime moments of silent cinema

An event of this 10th anniversary: the exceptional, epic, seven-hour film-concert of The Wheel by Abel Gance, screened in two parts. The work has been beautifully restored and will be accompanied by the National Orchestra of Lyon. Also on the program: short Chaplin movies at the Halle Tony Garnier, a tribute to Musidora, shorts by Émile Cohl and other silent films (by Pabst, Tourneur, Borzage) to discover, accompanied by live piano.

Documentaries on the cinema

This selection of documentaries never released before, allow you to delve into the worlds of the duo Marcel Carné-Jacques Prévert, John Wayne, Gary Cooper, Maurice Ronet or Johnny Hallyday (the actor), or into major periods of the history of the world with Le Temps des Nabobs about French producers or the post-war period with L'Ennemi japonais à Hollywood.

The Lumière festival for kids

Since it's never too early to discover the pleasure of movies in a theater, young audiences can laugh out loud at the Halle Tony Garnier with "the tramp" in a film-concert of three wonderful short films by Charlie Chaplin. Another screening event: the new restoration of The Wizard of Oz on the big screen at the Auditorium of Lyon. There will also be short films by Paul Grimault, the beautiful Japanese animated feature Yuki, the classic Swords of Blood by Philippe de Broca and A Bag of Marbles by Jacques Doillon.
